

2018 PRSA Charlotte Pegasus Award

Since 1992, PRSA Charlotte has given the Pegasus Award to an individual outside of the public relations profession who demonstrated superior knowledge and use of public relations for the betterment of the community.

A complete list of past winners is available at queencityprawards.com.

Eligibility:

A nominee for the award must be a leader of a corporation, business or an educational, medical, cultural, civic or charitable organization (public or private, profit or nonprofit) located in the Charlotte community or surrounding region.

Public relations practitioners, working members of the news media and other individuals who are paid for media appearances, writing and other PR/communications services are not eligible for nomination.

Criteria:

The nominee must be a respected leader who has made significant contributions to the betterment of the community, enhancing its reputation and prestige through the effective use of exceptional communication and public relations practices.

For example, the nominee should be someone who, through good communication practices, has helped his or her organization develop effective relationships with many different audiences or publics, including employees, members, customers, local communities, shareholders, and other institutions that, in turn, has made a difference in the community.

The winner will be recognized at the chapter's Queen City PR Awards event on October 24, 2018.

Please submit your entry by August 31, 2018 to qcpreentry@prsacharlotte.org.
